My hope is this newsletter finds you and yours healthy, safe, and an overall blessed environment. During these troubling times, it is always good to know that God is in control and better days are ahead!

Since 1969, we have impacted the lives of over 10,000 youth and families. We uniquely understand the importance of camp ministry and the services we provide. Considering the uncertainties currently surrounding us, and the Governor's Executive Order, Tall Turf Ministries (TTM) suspended the 2020 onsite summer camp program in lieu of offsite alternatives. This was done with health initiatives held to the highest degree.

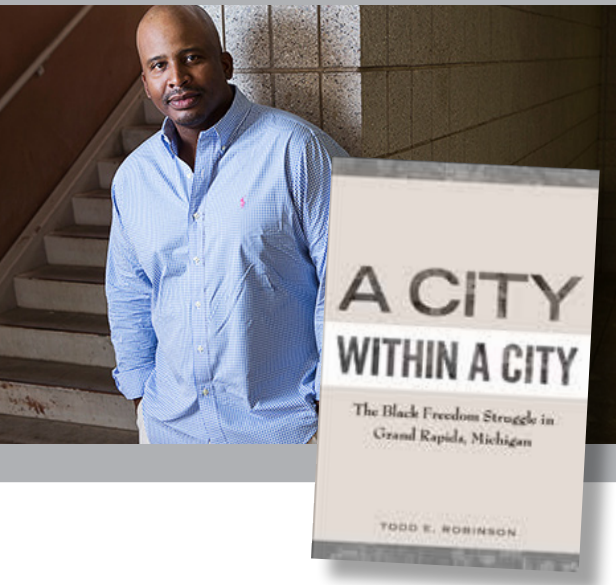

We started this process with prayer asking how God will be glorified during this process. Tall Turf Ministries worked with partners in our community that helped live out our mission. Our "Camp to Go" program was birthed and includes morning and evening devotions, arts and crafts, outside activities, and other camp experiences. Though it pained us to make this change, we remain committed to equipping youth and families for lives of reconciliation in God's world for our 52nd year in service. In moving forward, we will soon share information about new programs focused on addressing reconciliation for churches, organizations, and businesses as requested by our stakeholders and in alignment with our strategic plan.

BOOK STUDY

A City Within A City: The Black Freedom Struggle in Grand Rapids, Michigan

Each week for six weeks, the Tall Turf Ministries summer staff explored a chapter of the book by historian Todd Robinson, "A City within a City." The book explores various facets of the racialized landscape of the Grand Rapids community and associated activism throughout the twentieth century. Issues discussed included access to housing, geography, youth, job opportunity, school integration and managerial racism, as well as the roles of northern conservatives and politicians that created a "city within a city."

As the Black Lives Matter movement continues to grow across the nation, it is important to reflect on the inequalities that have been present in our city throughout our city's history. This book was an important tool for the summer staff to gain perspective and awareness of injustice.

Introducing: OUR NEWEST BOARD MEMBER

I am excited to be the newest member of the Tall Turf Board of Directors. I was born and raised on the Southeast side of Grand Rapids. I attended and attend (when there isn't a global pandemic) First Christian Reformed Church. I attended Oakdale Christian, Grand Rapids Christian, Calvin College, and Indiana University Maurer School of Law. I currently practice law with Miller Johnson. I love outdoor pursuits, including biking, hiking, canoeing, camping, swimming, sailing, and many more. God put the cause of racial reconciliation on my heart through the people of and my experiences at Oakdale, First Church, and on the Southeast-side. I was seeking a chance to serve an organization like Tall Turf when I was connected with Marcus through a colleague. Mark N. Greidanus, Attorney at Law, MILLER JOHNSON

A New Experience: CAMP-TO-GO

From Lydia Kuypenhoven

As a parent, board member and past staff for Tall Turf Ministries I entered the summer with anxiety and sadness feeling the loss of the overnight summer camp experience on many levels. I was excited to hear about Camp-To-Go and my kids anxiously awaited the first pick up wondering just what those bags contained! Our first month of summer was busy creating and discovering. Lava lamps, friendship bracelets, bird feeders, homemade bouncy balls, ojo de dios, card games, painting—my kids have experimented, created, been frustrated, learned new skills, had fun & grown in their faith—almost sounds like they went to camp! I know that nothing can truly replace the life changing experience of overnight camp, I am so thankful for Tall Turf rising to the unique challenges we are facing, continuing partnerships and serving our community the best way they can! My girls each have a shelf in their room dedicated to their Camp-To-Go bags and they can't wait to fill those up the rest of the summer.

From Kristi Ayers

City Camp has typically brought young people together for a week of singing, skits, bible lessons and activities. The relationship between Neland Avenue Church and Tall Turf Ministries continues to reach young leaders in our community, although it does not look the same as it has in the past few years. This summer, in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, Tall Turf Ministries and Neland collaborated to provide four drive-through distributions of materials for youth ages 8-13. Each distribution served 125 children in Grand Rapids, and an additional 25 youth in Hesperia, totaling 525 kits in the communities. The Tall Turf Ministries staff curated kits that included science, technology, engineering, arts and mathematics (STEAM) curriculum and supplies, as well as devotions for each activity. Each kit included the materials needed to create these experiments and crafts, as well as instructions, puzzles and recipes. Online content, including videos, are also available at www.tallturf.org. Partners such as New City Neighbors, Cherry Health, Kent County Head Start and the United Dairy Industry of Michigan provided content and materials for the kits, too. Neland staff purchased snack items from local businesses owned by people of color to include in each kit, as well as provided items such as homemade facemasks and water bottles. They also provided a volunteer photographer to capture the first distribution. We look forward to continuing our productive relationship with the Neland Avenue Church to provide youth development activities and equip youth and families for lives of reconciliation.

In this non-traditional camp year, Tall Turf Ministries summer staff are performing tasks that not only advance our mission in a socially-distanced fashion for our youth, but also help reflect on how the Tall Turf mission has made an impact on our community's leaders. The stories will be housed on the Tall Turf Ministries website and captions may be used to portray Tall Turf Ministries to future stakeholders.

Some notable captions include:

"I became a leader in training, which gave me the spark to teach children. Right now I'm studying elementary education at Jackson State University." -Arion Parks

"I learned leadership skills as second cook. I was in charge of the kitchen when Mrs. Tyson (the long-time head cook at Camp Tall Turf) wasn't there. I picked up valuable communication skills just by working with people." -Suki Brasser

"I started thinking about what changes I needed to make in my life to work for systemic, sustainable change in our community." -Denise Fase

"My experience at Tall Turf brought me to a level of comfort in multicultural settings that I don't think I would have otherwise" -Pastor Joel DelMoor

If you are a previous staff person, we would love to collect your story! Interviews are performed via ZOOM or phone. Please reach out to Kristi Ayers, Program Director at kristina@tallturf.org for more information.
